This weekly bulletin informs students, parents, and staff about internships, academic programs, jobs, community service options, and leadership initiatives, along with other student opportunities in a variety of fields. Please carefully note deadlines, age requirements, and other pre-requisites for participation.

Some program deadlines are fast approaching – please do not miss them!

For ease of use, these newsletters are organized by different categories, such as Academic Programs, Business Internships & Jobs, STEM Opportunities, Community Service, and so on.

Questions, suggestions, and information about other opportunities are always welcome and appreciated, and may be sent to Internship/Opportunity Coordinator Harvey Blumm at: hblumm@stuy.edu - we will share your helpful information with the Stuy community!

There are many excellent opportunities in this issue - including several highlighted below. A good number of programs & contests have upcoming deadlines.

BUSINESS/JOBS: NYC is now offering tests for summer lifeguard positions at various locations; the deadline is January 29th. And applications are now open for the BossGirls summer program, for students who identify as women or nonbinary – this is an excellent, free opportunity to develop business/entrepreneurial skills.

COLLEGE PREP: Columbia's S-Prep free SAT Study Program is accepting applications from lower-income and/or under-represented backgrounds; participants may also be eligible for future free STEM-related classes.

LEADERSHIP: All students with an interest in Health, Nutrition & Physical Fitness may apply for the NYC Student Wellness Program, which is open until December 31st. This is part of the citywide student Youth Leadership Council program, an excellent opportunity to engage with a wide variety of government agencies.

PARKS/ZOOS: The Discovery Guide program is an educational volunteer opportunity for youth 14 and older at all five Wildlife Conservation Society Zoos and at the New York Aquarium – spring term positions are now available.

STEM: The New York Academy of Science's Junior Academy virtual STEM spring programs' (in Public Health and Sustainability) application deadline is December 18th – all students may apply. The CS4All Pathfinder computer science program offers paid spring term internships in this field to interested students; the application deadline is December 29th.

The Tech Scholars program at the New York Historical Society in Manhattan offers an interesting opportunity to learn web design in a history-focused content area. It meets during the February break, and is open to applications from all students.

VIDEO/THEATER: The Animation Project in Queens welcomes student applications for its after-school spring term program, which meets twice a week.

Events of Interest to Students:

New: Event Approaching:

Unlimited: Mix-n-Mingle Math Workshops at MoMath

“Middle and high school students, come indulge in an evening of mathematical fun at MoMath’s mix-n-mingle program. This month, chat with Carnegie Mellon math professor Po-Shen Loh about math, how to use math, and what it’s like to be a person who does math. Plus, explore dynamic exhibits, enjoy fun, hands-on mathematical exploration, and New York City’s only interactive, light-up Voronoi dance floor, all with a peer group that thinks math is cool. And be sure to stop by the Octachoron Café, where hot cocoa and chocolate chip cookies await!”

Rockefeller University RockEDU Science Outreach Programs

“RockEDU Science Outreach is hosting a program combined into an after-school and summer research experience. The LAB Jumpstart Program takes place across two phases. The first phase is the LAB Jumpstart Program which will take place after school in the Spring term and the second phase is the Summer Science Research Program (SSRP) which will take place during the summer. The program is designed to promote the development of scientific thinking and research skills through a variety of talks, workshops, and individual mentorship.”

1 – Rockefeller University LAB Jumpstart Program

“LAB Jumpstart is designed to provide high school students, from disadvantaged backgrounds, with an opportunity to conduct hands-on research under the mentorship of leading scientific researchers at one of the world's premier biomedical research facilities. Students will be encouraged to develop and ask questions pertaining to scientific research, gain exposure to research skills and primary literature, and connect with dedicated scientist-mentors at The Rockefeller University. Each student is paired with a LAB Jumpstart Advocate — a practicing scientist who can provide educational and professional support beyond academic courses and discussions.”

Eligible: Current juniors and seniors who are at least 16 years old (by start of program); those with limited access to STEM opportunities are encouraged to apply

Dates: February 29 – June 13 (Tuesdays & Thursdays, 4:30 - 7:00 PM)

Location: The Rockefeller University (1230 York Avenue, Manhattan)

Cost: Free

Application Deadline: January 5, 2024 (applications) & January 8, 2024

2 – Rockefeller University Summer Science Research Program (SSRP)

“Students accepted into the SSRP mentored bioresearch program will participate in their own research project as part of a themed research track (i.e. RNA bioinformatics or fly behavior). Each track will consist of 8-12 SSRP students led by a RockEDU Fellow and their facilitation team of Track Scientists. RockEDU Fellows and Track Scientists are members of the Rockefeller scientific community who will guide students through their research projects through foundational lectures and skills-building activities.

Students will also attend a weekly suite of core lectures, which include talks from Rockefeller scientists and discussions of the styles of scientific reasoning, ethical practices in science, careers in science, and other topics.” The program includes a MetroCard for transportation and applications for stipends.

Eligible: Current juniors and seniors who are at least 16 years old at program start
