Students may apply to two-week online courses (4 sessions, June - August) in:

ONE Lab Summer Studio is online for 2021, allowing us to broaden the scope in lecturers, tours and projects beyond our NYC base. Our hours allow students from all across the continental US, Canada & Latin America to participate.

This program is creatively and intellectually stimulating, giving teens the chance to be proactive on climate concerns, introducing them to like-minded peers along with world-renowned design and climate experts, and jumpstarting their road to college and career exploration. Theater/Writing/Music/Video:

New: Deadline Approaching: Summer Writing Workshop

"This year's workshop theme is racism. Be part of a group of 12 young people who will participate in writing lessons, discussions, and group activities. Explore your feelings about and experiences with race and social justice. Write stories that will help other young people see they are not alone in their experiences of discrimination. Share your ideas for change that will lead to more fair and just schools and communities.

Guest speakers and field trips will deepen our understanding of these topics. No prior writing experience is required, but you must be able to attend for all six weeks. Your stories will be published in our publications and may appear in Youth Communication's curricula.

Depending on the COVID situation, the workshop may be held in person at our offices on West 38th Street, over Zoom, or both. If attending either in person or by Zoom would be a problem, please briefly explain why (e.g., no WiFi where you live). Your COVID-related needs will not impact your acceptance into the program. We will try our best to make accommodations. The editors you work with in person will be vaccinated.

If you are selected for or enroll in any of the above opportunities, please inform Mr. Blumm ASAP at: hblumm@stuy.edu

Whichever extra-curricular program, internship, or community service activity a student may participate in, they should be sure to ask their supervisor/coordinator to write a letter of appreciation before it concludes – it is sometimes very difficult to obtain this later on. And the more personal & detailed the letter, the better. A copy should then be submitted to your counselor.

Please feel free to contact Harvey Blumm at hblumm@stuy.edu with any questions or feedback on any items in this message, or with any suggestions or concerns you may have. And always feel free to share any information about opportunities that may be of interest to our parents, teachers, or students
