9. THEATER, WRITING, MUSIC, PERFORMING ARTS, VIDEO

10. OPPORTUNITY LISTS AND RESOURCES

11. SCHOLARSHIPS

In this week's edition, please note that there is a new community service opportunity to remotely help senior citizens with the Dorot organization, and a very enjoyable free opportunity for female students to develop their presentation skills with Stand UP Girls! NYC – no experience necessary (in the Leadership section).

For students interested in engineering, NYC Exploring offers upcoming sessions with a top engineering firm, and Syracuse University invites students to take special one-hour classes in a variety of engineering fields. And for Stuy writers and artists, the Scholastic Writing & Art Awards program – which many Stuyvesant students have excelled in), has a December 4th deadline.

For ease of use, these newsletters are organized by different categories, such as Academic Programs, Business & Jobs, Community Service, and so on.

New items always will be listed first in every category, followed by those with approaching deadlines (Deadline Approaching).

Questions, suggestions, and information about other opportunities are always welcome and appreciated, and may be sent to Internship Coordinator Harvey Blumm at: hblumm@stuy.edu - we will share your helpful information with the Stuy community!

Events:

New: Math Encounters at the Museum of Mathematics:

Breaking Up Is Hard To Do: The Art of Decomposition

“Among the most fundamental tasks of mathematics (or science) is to classify in order to understand what kinds of things there are in the world. A particularly satisfying form of classification is when we can show that every complicated thing is built out of a much smaller set of simpler things. In chemistry, we get this satisfaction from the periodic table; in mathematics, we find it just about everywhere, from numbers to polynomials to curved surfaces. Take a tour of some of these "periodic tables" of mathematics with noted mathematician Jordan Ellenberg and join us as together we explore the surprising relationships among them.”

If you are selected for or enroll in any of the above opportunities, please inform Mr. Blumm ASAP at: hblumm@stuy.edu

Whichever extra-curricular program, internship, or community service activity a student may participate in, they should be sure to ask their supervisor/coordinator to write a letter of appreciation before it concludes – it is sometimes very difficult to obtain this later on. And the more personal & detailed the letter, the better. A copy should then be submitted to your counselor.
