Stuyvesant Student Opportunity Bulletin #25L

March 10, 2023

Please note that in this "Long" version of the Student Opportunity Bulletin, all opportunities in each category are included.

For the list of only the New and Deadline Approaching opportunities in each category, you may click & open the "Short" version of the Student Opportunity document you received.

CATEGORY TABLE OF CONTENTS:

(Download this entire PDF document in order to use the following links to jump to your area(s) of interest)

For ease of use, these newsletters are organized by different categories, such as Academic Programs, Business Internships & Jobs, STEM Opportunities, Community Service, and so on.

Here are some highlights for this week:

---In the EVENTS section, Columbia University SPLASH on Sunday, April 2nd is a chance for all high school students to take free mini-classes in a variety of STEM & Humanities disciplines on the Columbia campus. Classes fill up quickly (the application deadline is March 18th), so register ASAP!

---In the BUSINESS/JOBS category, the there are several interesting programs with fast-approaching deadlines:

1-Columbia Business School offers a free (students receive a stipend) summer First Generation Entrepreneurship Business Program for current 10th and 11th grade students who live in certain uptown Manhattan & Bronx neighborhoods. There is an Information Session scheduled for Saturday, March 11th and the application deadline is March 17th.

2-Indiana University offers a free in-person, one-day (4/14) Young Women's Institute Business Program to female 10th and 11th graders with a minimum 3.5 GPA (transportation costs not covered). The application deadline is March 15th.

3-There are paid summer jobs (for seniors who live in Brooklyn) available with companies at the Brooklyn Navy Yard complex. The application deadline is March 17th.

4-And all students should consider applying to the NYC Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP); the application has been posted online (see BUSINESS section for details). This program is open to all high school students, and provides paid opportunities in a wide variety of settings (along with the similar NYC-funded Ladders for Leaders job program for juniors & seniors over 16). Most students should consider applying even if they apply to other programs– just in case their other options don't work out.

---In the STEM/MEDICAL category, Columbia offers a free, four-session virtual Introduction to Synthetic Biology course – it meets on Sunday afternoons from 3/19 – 4/9. The application deadline (for Stuy students) is March 13th!

And the NYU Grossman School of Medicine offers their Rise Up summer medical program to students from groups under-represented in the fields of medicine & science. The application deadline for this four-week program is March 15th.

IN the RESOURCES section, there is a very helpful database of internships &other opportunities for high school students. This StandOut High School Internship Database is definitely worth checking out!

Questions, suggestions, and information about other opportunities are always welcome and appreciated, and may be sent to Internship/Opportunity Coordinator Harvey Blumm at: hblumm@stuy.edu - we will share your helpful information with the Stuy community!

And, as always, students and parents should feel free to contact Harvey Blumm for advice & assistance: hblumm@stuy.edu

National Labor Relations Board Student Ambassador Program

"The National Labor Relations Board is a federal agency that enforces the National Labor Relations Act. Through the NLRB's Student Ambassador Program, students will get to engage with NLRB attorneys and investigators, and will learn about the rights of workers and the responsibilities of employers and unions. Students will complete a learning phase and then students will get the opportunity to create a public facing project that the NLRB will help shape and promote. Each student will be assigned an attorney or investigator as a mentor for the public facing project.

Examples of a public facing project can be an article in a student or local newspaper or a presentation with an NLRB representative in a class or conference. This Program is a wonderful opportunity for students to develop familiarity with the law, law enforcement, and federal agencies. Equally as important, students will get the chance to create a project centered on what they have learned. They will develop their project skills, use their creativity, and step forward as leaders. At the end of the Program, they will receive a Certificate of Accomplishment."

New: New York Road Runners Run for the Future Program

“Through our educational and fitness sessions, our participants develop an understanding of the connection between physical activity and self-care. Topics include nutrition, mental wellness, body image, and self-awareness. NYRR staff and women leaders from our community lead interactive, informative educational sessions that provide a safe space and rich learning experience for our young women. Participants receive a MetroCard for in-person practices, New Balance uniforms and sneakers, healthy snacks, and a wellness kit to support their running and fitness needs during the season.

At the conclusion of the program, the new runners participate in their first 5K (3.1-mile) race. Those who maintain an 80% attendance rate during practice sessions and participate in the 5K race will receive a $500 wellness grant to be used to invest in their personal health and self-care needs."

Inspirit AI Scholars Sessions – Spring and Summer Courses

I, Social Science and Ethics Track - Interdisciplinary Program by MIT Mentors - Inspirit AI is a 25-hour project-based AI program that introduces middle/high school students to fundamental AI concepts to build impactful projects across disciplines such as arts and humanities. This year we are excited announce new projects such as Chatbots for Education, AI for Disaster-Aid, Hate Speech Prevention, and more. The program is taught by Stanford, MIT mentors and no CS experience is necessary. Applications for Spring are due March 15th.

Inspirit AI students will explore applications, create foundational AI concepts, and develop AI programming skills before developing a Social Good project. The program also includes college and career preparation workshops, to prepare for top-ranked CS/AI programs and pursue ventures or careers in AI. After the program, students gain access to an online platform for continuous learning, including additional projects in a variety of domains. No programming or computer science experience is required. Advanced cohorts are available for students with prior programming experience."

If you are selected for or enroll in any of the above opportunities, please inform Mr. Blumm ASAP at: hblumm@stuy.edu

Whichever extra-curricular program, internship, or community service activity a student may participate in, they should be sure to ask their supervisor/coordinator to write a letter of appreciation before it concludes – it is sometimes very difficult to obtain this later on. And the more personal & detailed the letter, the better. A copy should then be submitted to your counselor.

Please feel free to contact Harvey Blumm at hblumm@stuy.edu with any questions or feedback on any items in this message, or with any suggestions or concerns you may have. And always feel free to share any information about opportunities that may be of interest to our parents, teachers, or students.
