Stuyvesant Student Opportunity Bulletin #22S

February 10, 2023

Please note that in this "Short" version of the Student Opportunity Bulletin, only the New and Deadline Approaching opportunities in each category are included.

For the list of all the opportunities in each category, you may click & open the "Long" version of the Student Opportunity document you received.

CATEGORY TABLE OF CONTENTS:

(Download this entire PDF document in order to use the following links to jump to your area(s) of interest)

For ease of use, these newsletters are organized by different categories, such as Academic Programs, Business Internships & Jobs, STEM Opportunities, Community Service, and so on.

Here are some highlights for this week:

In the BUSINESS section, BossGirls at City College in Manhattan offers all female-identifying students an excellent business/entrepreneurship summer program. For seniors, the Urban Leadership Fellows program provides a paid municipal finance internship to business-focused students (the application deadline is February 19th!). And for seniors with a strong academic record and real interest in Business/Finance/STEM, the Atlas Finance Fellowship is a very generous summer internship/scholarship program. It is focused on lower-income students & those from under-represented groups (including female students), but all may apply.

In the WRITING/PERFORMING ARTS section, the Young Dancemakers'
Company welcomes audition applications from any current students for their summer season. And there are several new writing contests & programs to check out.

And in the STEM category, all students may apply for the free spring term weekend
STEP programs at City Tech in Brooklyn and aeronautics-focused Vaughn College in Queens. Cooper Union in Manhattan has an excellent summer STEM program for 9th, 10th, and 11th graders – significant financial aid is available.

Questions, suggestions, and information about other opportunities are always welcome and appreciated, and may be sent to Internship/Opportunity Coordinator Harvey Blumm at: hblumm@stuy.edu - we will share your helpful information with the Stuy community!

And, as always, students and parents should feel free to contact Harvey Blumm for advice & assistance: hblumm@stuy.edu

New: Girls Write Now Writing 360 Workshops

   1- Tell it Through Jokes: The Joys and Benefits of Stand-Up Comedy
"Scared of stand-up comedy? Never fear. It's just another form of storytelling!
In this workshop, we will learn the basics of stand-up comedy writing, giving special attention to the ways stand-up can be a tool for activism and awareness around pertinent social issues. Participants will gain an understanding of thoughtful comedy writing, what not to do in stand-up, and how to intentionally engage audience members. We will also think through stand-up comedy's capacity for wellness and processing, how the connection between audience members and comics creates a space for social-emotional learning."

Eligible: All students who identify as women, trans, or gender-expansive

2- Co-creating Future: Augmented Reality As Crystal Ball

"How can the art of divination, or fortune-telling, guide us to rethink software as a system of healing, and how can we use software to develop healing tools? Inspired by the I Ching, an ancient text of Chinese wisdom and the world's oldest oracle, artist and educator Zhenzhen Qi takes us through a variety of cultural divination practices to collectively design new or alternative patterns for fortune-telling. As a group, using the software development environment Lens Studio, we will code these patterns into a Snapchat AR filter to develop our own fortune-telling software experience. No prior software design or development experience is needed!"

New: Girls Write Now Writing 360 Workshops

   1- Tell it Through Jokes: The Joys and Benefits of Stand-Up Comedy

"Scared of stand-up comedy? Never fear. It's just another form of storytelling!
In this workshop, we will learn the basics of stand-up comedy writing, giving special attention to the ways stand-up can be a tool for activism and awareness around pertinent social issues. Participants will gain an understanding of thoughtful comedy writing, what not to do in stand-up, and how to intentionally engage audience members. We will also think through stand-up comedy's capacity for wellness and processing, how the connection between audience members and comics creates a space for social-emotional learning."

2- Co-creating Future: Augmented Reality As Crystal Ball

"How can the art of divination, or fortune-telling, guide us to rethink software as a system of healing, and how can we use software to develop healing tools? Inspired by the I Ching, an ancient text of Chinese wisdom and the world's oldest oracle, artist and educator Zhenzhen Qi takes us through a variety of cultural divination practices to collectively design new or alternative patterns for fortune-telling. As a group, using the software development environment Lens Studio, we will code these patterns into a Snapchat AR filter to develop our own fortune-telling software experience. No prior software design or development experience is needed!"
