

Stuyvesant Student Opportunity Bulletin #13L

November 27, 2024

Please note that in this “Long” version of the Student Opportunity Bulletin, all opportunities in each category are included.

For the list of only the New and Deadline Approaching opportunities in each category, you may click & open the “Short” version of the Student Opportunity document you received.

New! Introducing The TomorrowToday Experience Directory: A new interactive resource for students and parents!

We are excited to announce the launch of the Stuyvesant Experience Directory powered by TomorrowToday. This digital companion to the weekly Student Opportunities Bulletin empowers students to more easily explore, find, and engage with the many diverse opportunities that are available in a more interactive way.

How Should Students Use It?

Students can access the directory via our weekly digital bulletin or at the link here. Simply browse through the curated listings, find experiences that interest you, and take the next steps to participate on the provider's website. The user-friendly interface makes it easy to filter and search for specific opportunities.

We encourage all students to make the most of TomorrowToday's Experience Directory. Dive in, explore, and discover your career journey: <https://stuyvesant.tomorrowtodayapp.com/>

This weekly bulletin informs students, parents, and staff about internships, academic programs, jobs, leadership & community service initiatives, and other student opportunities in a variety of fields. Please carefully note deadlines, age requirements, and other pre-requisites for participation.

For ease of use, these newsletters are organized by different categories, such as Academic Programs, Business Internships & Jobs, STEM Opportunities, Community Service, and so on.

These various opportunities utilize different formats. Some are in-person, some remote, and some will involve a hybrid arrangement. Check each program for their specific format and schedule. Students should consider applying to any that match their interests and talents.

Please note that in order to save space, many sections contain links to general lists of related opportunities- such as for Math, Community Service, STEM, and more; be sure to click on any that interest you.

Here are several programs of note in this week's bulletin; some have rapidly-approaching deadlines:

BUSINESS: Students interested in paid NYC Lifeguard summer positions may take qualifying swim/vision exams over the next few months – must be 16 or older by summer.

The Emma Bowen Foundation's scholarship and paid media internship program is open to seniors under-represented in the media industry, including those from Latino, Asian-American, and African-American backgrounds.

GOVERNMENT/LEADERSHIP: The FXB Climate Advocates Program welcomes applications from all students interested in working virtually on climate & sustainability initiatives. And the Manhattan Borough President's Fellowship program is for current juniors and seniors with a strong interest in government and policy issues – the application deadline is December 1st.

PARKS/NATURE: All interested students may apply for an Environmental Justice Steering Committee position- the application is still open on a rolling basis. And the New York Hall of Science in Queens welcomes all students with an interest in environmental & sustainability issues to their 12/13 Snowy Winters Environmental Event, with a wide variety of activities, panel presentations, and ice skating!

STEM: MIT offers several summer and school-year STEM programs for current juniors. These are the Research Science Institute (RSI), MITES Summer and MITES Semester programs; all are now accepting applications – the RSI deadline is December 11th. The MITES programs are open to all juniors, with a focus on underrepresented, first-generation and lower-income applicants, (but all may apply). It runs during the spring term and the summer, and participants receive a stipend.

The virtual Columbia-affiliated International Young Researchers Conference is open to applicants from all grades; the ‘early-bird’ application deadline for this summer program is December 14th.

The Columbia School of Engineering’s ‘Engineering the Future’ free summer program for rising seniors welcomes all applicants with an interest in engineering & research.

Yes (Youth Enjoy Science) in the Heights from the Columbia Irving Cancer Center is a free, in-person summer program for under-resourced, first-generation or under-represented students 14 and older.

And the NYU Health Career Opportunity program invites current seniors (with a minimum 3.2 GPA) to apply for their free 4-week summer sessions at the Rusk Rehabilitation Center in Manhattan.

THEATER/PERFORMING ARTS:

There are numerous rapidly-approaching deadlines for diverse writing programs and contests in fiction, prose, poetry, drama, and more. Student writers should feel free to check these and submit their work!

Questions, suggestions, and information about other opportunities are always welcome and appreciated, and may be sent to Internship/Opportunity Coordinator Harvey Blumm at: hblumm@stuy.edu - we will share your helpful information with the Stuy community!

Battelle Climate Challenge

“Your challenge is to research past and future impacts of climate-related hazards in your community, including drought, wildfire, flooding, and extreme heat, then develop a proposed action to help build a more resilient community. Your entry must be original and include a title, a written explanation of your proposed climate action, and an image (max 3GB) of a “poster” that supports your climate action. The poster can be a digital design or a photo of a hand-made poster. Your climate action should explain at least one way your community can prevent, withstand, respond to, or recover from a climate-related event. Your entry should also address how you plan to make your solution a reality (ex. start an organization, a company or create/sell a product). The grand prize winner will present their poster at the Innovations in Climate Resilience Conference in Washington, D.C. on April 21, and receive a $5,000 STEM grant for a U.S. nonprofit organization, public library, or public school of their choice.”

Rockefeller University RockEDU Science Outreach Program

“RockEDU Science Outreach is hosting a program with after-school and summer research experiences. The LAB Jumpstart Program takes place across two phases. The first phase is the LAB Jumpstart Program which will take place after school in the Spring term; the second phase is the Summer Science Research Program (SSRP) which will take place during the summer. The program is designed to promote the development of scientific thinking and research skills through a variety of talks, workshops, and individual mentorship.”

Rockefeller University LAB Jumpstart Program

“LAB Jumpstart is designed to provide high school students, especially those from disadvantaged backgrounds, with an opportunity to conduct hands-on research under the mentorship of leading scientific researchers at one of the world's premier biomedical research facilities. Each student is paired with a LAB Jumpstart Advocate — a practicing scientist who can provide educational and professional support beyond academic courses and discussions. Jumpstart students then move into the Summer Science Research Program (SSRP).”

Eligible: Current juniors and seniors who are at least 16 years old by start of program; focus is on under-represented students and those with limited access to STEM opportunities – but all may apply.

Working Papers: Some jobs, internships, and programs do require students 14-17 years old to obtain working papers (official name: employment certificates). The necessary application form may be obtained from Mr. Myles Sebastien (who can explain the procedure and answer any questions) in the Stuyvesant Guidance Office (Room 236) between 8:00am – 3:30pm.

If you are selected for or enroll in any of the above opportunities, please inform Mr. Blumm ASAP at: hblumm@stuy.edu

Whichever extra-curricular program, internship, or community service activity a student may participate in, they should be sure to ask their supervisor/coordinator to write a letter of appreciation before it concludes – it is sometimes very difficult to obtain this later on. And the more personal & detailed the letter, the better. A copy should then be submitted to your counselor.

Please feel free to contact Harvey Blumm at hblumm@stuy.edu with any questions or feedback on any items in this message, or with any suggestions or concerns you may have. And always feel free to share any information about opportunities that may be of interest to our parents, teachers, or students.
