12. SCHOLARSHIPS

Some hospitals are now accepting student summer volunteers for the first time in two years. Minimum age limits vary, but there are opportunities for all grade levels. Check the Community Service section for a list of available options. And for students with an interest in Global Health issues, there is an upcoming April Harvard Global Health & Leadership Conference – learn more in the Leadership/Advocacy section.

Here are some highlights for this week:

---In the EVENTS section, 10th-12th grade students can benefit from the upcoming (4/12) virtual Job/Internship Interview Workshop.

---In the BUSINESS/JOBS category, current seniors may apply for a free two-week Fintech Program, which is excellent for students interested in finance, computer science, and technology. The application deadline is Sunday, April 3rd! And current 11th and 12th graders can apply for the free Museum of Finance spring program, which offers high-level enrichment in personal finance and the finance industry. Space is limited, and several selected participants will also receive scholarships upon completion of the program. And check out the numerous summer day camp jobs available!

---In the STEM section, a good number of excellent opportunities have deadlines coming up in the next week or two – now is the time to apply!

---And in the SCHOLARSHIPS section, there are several new options for seniors to peruse.

For ease of use, these newsletters are organized by different categories, such as Academic Programs, Business & Jobs, Community Service, and so on.

New items always will be listed first in every category, followed by those with approaching deadlines (Deadline Approaching).

As always, students and parents should feel free to contact Harvey Blumm for advice & assistance at: hblumm@stuy.edu

Questions, suggestions, and information about other opportunities are always welcome and appreciated, and may be sent to Internship/Opportunity Coordinator Harvey Blumm at: hblumm@stuy.edu - we will share your helpful information with the Stuy community!

New: Event Approaching:

Guggenheim Museum Teens Conversations – Environmental Justice

“Take a study break and join us for meaningful, teen-led discussions with community leaders, artists, and museum staff around the topic of environmental justice!

Utilizing artistic reflection and community dialogue, GuggTeens Conversations Spring 2022 is a free, hybrid series designed to encourage local New York City high schoolers to think creatively across multiple disciplines about environmental justice. This six-part series will include both remote and in-person sessions between March and June 2022. During each meeting, participants will be joined by local community partners to explore artworks in the museum’s collection and to discuss themes of environmental and social justice. After each session, teens will create their own reflective artworks based on interpretive prompts.

All sessions are free and open to all New York City teens in grades 8–12! Join us to meet other local teens with similar passions and share your original creations—you could even win a gift card for submitting your artwork!. MTA cards, snacks, and art-making supplies will be provided for the in-person sessions. Reach out to teenprograms@guggenheim.org with any questions.”

Through the NLRB’s Student Ambassador Program, students will get to engage with NLRB attorneys and investigators and will learn about the rights of workers and the responsibilities of employers and unions. Students will complete a learning phase and then students will get the opportunity to create a public facing project that the NLRB will help shape and promote. Each student will be assigned an attorney or investigator as a mentor for the public facing project.

Examples of a public facing project can be an article in a student or local newspaper or a presentation with an NLRB representative in a class or conference. This Program is a wonderful opportunity for students to develop familiarity with the law, law enforcement, and federal agencies. Equally important, students will get the chance to create a project centered on what they have learned. They will develop their project skills, use their creativity, and step forward as leaders. At the end of the Program, they will receive a Certificate of Accomplishment.”

Eligible: Current sophomores, juniors, and seniors

Dates:

Learning Phase: July 18 to July 27, 2022. Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays, 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. (hours may be adjusted to accommodate all participants)

Guggenheim Museum Teens Conversations – Environmental Justice

“Take a study break and join us for meaningful, teen-led discussions with community leaders, artists, and museum staff around the topic of environmental justice!

Utilizing artistic reflection and community dialogue, GuggTeens Conversations Spring 2022 is a free, hybrid series designed to encourage local New York City high schoolers to think creatively across multiple disciplines about environmental justice. This six-part series will include both remote and in-person sessions between March and June 2022. During each meeting, participants will be joined by local community partners to explore artworks in the museum’s collection and to discuss themes of environmental and social justice. After each session, teens will create their own reflective artworks based on interpretive prompts.

All sessions are free and open to all New York City teens in grades 8–12! Join us to meet other local teens with similar passions and share your original creations—you could even win a gift card for submitting your artwork!. MTA cards, snacks, and art-making supplies will be provided for the in-person sessions. Reach out to teenprograms@guggenheim.org with any questions.”

New: All About Education Scholarship

“It's often been said that "education is the key to success." What doors could your educational "key" open? It's not cheap to get a college degree, and many college-bound students see a shut door for education. We're here to help open it again. School can get expensive, so we want to know how winning a $3,000 All About Education Scholarship could help make a difference in your life. Will it ease the burden of student loans? Will it offer you the opportunity to pursue a dream? Will it help you inspire others to work towards their own goals? Let us know why winning a scholarship for education matters to you.”

Eligible: All students who are at least 14 years old

Application Deadline: April 30

New: E-waste Scholarship

“Each year there are 20 to 50 million tons of e-waste discarded in the world. E-waste contains toxic materials, including heavy metals, that can easily seep into the ground and ultimately get into groundwater supplies. According to the EPA, recycling e-waste allows more than 100 million pounds of materials to be reused annually. The purpose of this scholarship is to help you understand the impact of e-waste and what can be done to reduce e-waste. The winner will receive a $1,000 scholarship.”

Eligible: All students

Application Deadline: April 30

Link: <http://www.digitalresponsibility.org/ewaste-scholarship>

New: Return2College (R2C) Scholarship

“We know the essay requirement does not allow for many words. We want you to focus on the most important reason for getting your degree. Nevertheless, we realize that some of you may want to say more. Therefore, you may submit more than one entry. We will judge all completed entries. The first-place award is a $1,000 scholarship which will be paid directly to the applicant or designated school.”

Eligible: All seniors

Application Deadline: April 30
